It requires capital to conduct a Credit Business when it has assined such manimoth proportions as ours—we are pleased to say that we have the necessary capital and it enables us to buy judiciously. Ferhaps experience is quite as necessary as capital—we have that, too—more than twenty-five years of it. It also requires extraordinary faculties to handle such a volume of business as we control, and we are azain pleased to say that our new five-s ory building, 819, 821 and 823 Seventh at, n.w., is the largest ever erected in Washington for the purpose of soiling Furniture, Carpets and Homefurnishings on credit.

It further requires a well-constructed plan of operation to inspire the public with a feeding of absolute safety in purchasing goods upon credit—that's our strong hold. Our methods have gained their confidence, and having sained it never tail to retain it. We require no notes, simply your promise to pay. One thing we do require is a small cash payment at time of purchase; the balance is easily arranged in small weekly or monthly payments. is said to be operating in this city. The five girls are all between the age of thirteen and seventeen. The first to disappear was Mabel Scott, the fifteen-year-old daughter of Thomas Scott, a mechanic employed by the Russell wheel and iron works.

On January 23 Rosa Basowitch, a remarkably pretty thirteen-year-old Polish girl, disappeared from her home, at No. 944 Chene street, and the allightest traces of her her home. nd not the slightest trace of her has been bund. Following close upon this case was that that she had secured a situation as a nurse girl on Alfred street, and took her clothes with her. She was seventeen years old and quite good

This woman became much attached to Lottie and urged the girl to accompany her to Europe. Lottie's parents refused to listen'to such a proposition, but the girl ran away from home when pressed by Miss Brownell, who came to Detroit to see her. They started for New York, as Lottie supposed, but landed in Chicago, where they went to a house on North Clark street, the Brownell woman pretending that she had business to attend to before leaving that night. Lottie was drugged. She became the mistress of a board of trade man, but was discarded in time. She repented and came home to her parents, who

The police are of the opinon that Miss Brownell is still working Detroit for girls, who are sent to Chicago. She also operates in Cleveland. They credit the other disappear-ances to the Chicago procuress.

INVESTIGATION POSTPONED. An Attempt to Examine Charges of Corrupting Legislators. Jackson, Miss., Feb. 12 .- Considerable excitement was caused yesterday in the house citement was caused yesterday in the house by the introduction of a resolution by Representative Glover to the effect that it having been rumored that money was used with some members of the legislature to get the penitentiary bill postponed for two years the House appoint a committee to investigate the matter and see if there was any truth in the report. Several members surrounded Glover in a moment, urging him to withdraw the resolution, which he finally did. It is charged by members that undue influence was used in having the plea for a penitentiary farm postponed for two years, and the object of the resolution was to see how much truth there was in the rumor. It is likely that the resolution will come up again in a day or two in another shape.

vorce case Judge Thomas has entered an order, on motion of plaintiff's attorney, for an order on defendant, James G. Blaine, jr., to show cause why his answer to the complaints should not be stricken from the files and records of the sotion as for centempt of court for having ignored and disobeyed orders of the court heretofore made, and also to show dause why the case should not be set down for immediate trial.
